(2) All registers of patents established and kept under the Patents (Southern Rhodesia) Act, Chapter 208 of the 1948 Edition of the Laws, or the Registration of United Kingdom Patents Act, Chapter 205 of the 1957 Edition of the Laws (hereinafter in this section referred to as "such legislation") shall, under arrangements made by the Registrar with the approval of the Minister, be incorporated with and form part of the register established under subsection (1), so, however, that such arrangements shall in no way be deemed to extend the term and effect of any patent registered in such registers beyond the term and effect provided in respect of such patent by such legislation under which it was granted.

arrangements

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964
and S.I. No. 175 of 1965)

* Republic of Zambia declared to be a country of the Union with effect from 24th October, 1964, by G.N. No. 1751 of 1965.

applications

8. (1) Subject to the provisions of section eleven, any person who qualifies under Article 2 or 3 of the Convention and who has applied for protection for an invention in a convention country or his legal representative or assignee (if such assignee is also so qualified) shall be entitled to a patent for his invention under this Act in priority to other applicants if application therefor is made in terms of this Act within twelve months after the effective date of the first application for protection in the first convention country in which he made such application or, where more than one such application for protection has been made, from the effective date of the first such application, and the patent shall have the same date as the effective date of the application in such convention country but the term of the patent shall run from the date on which the complete specification is lodged at the Patent Office:

Provided that—

- (i) nothing in this subsection shall entitle the patentee to recover damages for infringements occurring prior to the date on which his complete specification is advertised as having been accepted in Zambia;
- (ii) no patent granted on a convention application lodged within twelve months after the date stated in terms of section seven shall bear a date or be effective from a date prior to the date so stated.

(2) Where, after the lodging of the first application in the first convention country in respect of any invention, a subsequent application is lodged in that country in respect of the same invention, such subsequent application shall be regarded as the first application in that country in respect of that invention, if at the time of the lodging thereof—

- (a) the previous application has been withdrawn, abandoned or refused without having been open to public inspection; and
- (b) no priority rights have been claimed by virtue of such previous application; and
- (c) no rights are outstanding in that convention country in connection with such previous application.

(3) An application which has been withdrawn, abandoned or refused shall not, after the lodging of the subsequent application, be capable of supporting a claim for priority rights under this section.

(4) Where all the rights of each of two or more applicants referred to in subsection (1) who have made application for protection of inventions in any one or more convention countries have become vested in the same person, those applications shall for the purposes of subsection (4) of section thirteen be deemed to have been made by the same applicant.

(5) Where an applicant referred to in subsection (1) has applied for protection for any invention by an application which, in accordance with the law of any convention country, is equivalent to an application duly made in that convention country, he shall be deemed for the purposes of this section to have applied in that convention country.

(6) In determining for the purposes of this Act whether an invention described or claimed in a specification lodged in the Patent Office is the same as that for which protection has been applied for in a convention country, regard shall be had to the disclosure contained in the whole of the documents put forward at the same time as and in support of the application in the convention country, being documents of which copies have been lodged at the Patent Office within such time and in such manner as may be prescribed.

(7) A patent granted in Zambia for an invention upon an application made in terms of this section shall not be invalidated by reason only of—

- (a) the invention having been known or used or published in Zambia or elsewhere on or after the effective date of the application in the convention country in which application was first made; or
- (b) the granting in Zambia after the effective date of the application in the convention country of a patent of another person for the same invention:

Provided that—

- (i) the effective date of the patent of such other person shall not be prior to the effective date in Zambia of the convention application; and
- (ii) the convention patentee shall be entitled to have the patent of such other person revoked upon due application under and in compliance with the provisions of section fifty.

(8) An application for a patent under this section shall be made in the same manner as for an application in terms of section twelve, save that the application shall be accompanied by a complete specification.

(9) For the purposes of this Act, matter shall be deemed to have been disclosed in an application for protection in a convention country if it was claimed or disclosed (otherwise than by way of disclaimer or acknowledgment of prior art) in that application or in documents submitted by the applicant for protection in support of and at the same time as that application, but no account shall be taken of any disclosure by any such document unless a copy of the document is lodged at the Patent Office with the convention application or within such period as may be prescribed after the lodging of that application.

(As amended by No. 36 of 1960 and G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

Special provisions as to vessels, aircraft and
land vehicles

9. (1) Where a vessel or aircraft registered in a convention country or a land vehicle owned by a person ordinarily resident in such a country comes into Zambia temporarily or accidentally only, the rights conferred by a patent for an invention shall not be deemed to be infringed by the use of the invention—

- (a) in the body of the vessel or in the machinery, tackle, apparatus or other accessories thereof, so far as the invention is used on board the vessel and for its actual needs only; or
- (b) in the construction or working of the aircraft or land vehicle or of the accessories thereof;

as the case may be.

Cap. 444

(2) This section shall not affect the provisions of section sixteen of the Aviation Act (which exempts certain aircraft from seizure on patent claims).

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

Protection of inventions
communicated under international agreements

10. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the Minister may, by statutory instrument, make regulations for securing that, where an invention has been communicated in accordance with any agreement or arrangement made by or on behalf of the Government with the government of any country for the supply or mutual exchange of information or articles—

- (a) an application for a patent for an invention so communicated made by a person, his legal representative or assignee, entitled under section eleven to make such application, shall not be prejudiced, and a patent granted on such an application shall not be invalidated by reason only that the invention has been communicated as aforesaid or that in consequence thereof—
 - (i) the invention has been published, made, used, exercised or vended; or
 - (ii) an application for a patent has been made by any other person, or a patent has been granted on such an application;
- (b) any application for a patent made in consequence of such a communication as aforesaid by a person who is not entitled so to do under section eleven may be refused and any patent granted on such an application may be revoked.

(2) Regulations made under subsection (1) may provide that the publication, making, use, exercise or vending of an invention or the making of any application for a patent in respect thereof shall, in such circumstances and subject to such conditions or exceptions as may be prescribed by the regulations, be presumed to have been in consequence of such a communication as is mentioned in that subsection.

(3) The powers of the Minister under this section, so far as they are exercisable for the benefit of persons from whom inventions have been communicated to the Government by the government of any country, shall only be exercised if and to the extent that the Minister is satisfied that substantially equivalent provision has been or will be made under the law of that country for the benefit of persons whose inventions have been communicated by the Government to the government of that country.

(4) References in subsection (3) to the communication of an invention to or by the Government or the government of any country shall be construed as including references to the communication of the invention by or to any person authorised in that behalf by the government in question.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

10A. (1) In this section—

ARIPO

- (b) "ARIPO Protocol" means the Protocol on Patents and Industrial Designs within the Framework of ARIPO, adopted at Harare on 10th December, 1982.

(2) Where a patent has been granted by ARIPO under section 3 (7) of the ARIPO Protocol and the Registrar has not objected, under section 3 (6) of the Protocol, to the patent having effect in Zambia, the patent shall for all purposes be deemed to have been granted under this Act.

(3) A patent shall not be deemed to have been granted under this section if, under section 3 (6) of the ARIPO Protocol, the Registrar objects to its having effect in Zambia.

(As amended by Act No. 26 of 1987)

APPLICATIONS GENERALLY

11. Application for a patent for an invention may be made by any of the following persons, that is to say:

Persons entitled to make application

- (a) a person claiming to be the inventor of the invention who owns the invention in respect of Zambia;
- (b) an assignee;
- (c) a person entitled under subsection (1) of section eight;
- (d) the legal representative of any person who immediately before his death or disability was entitled to make such application;

and may be made by any above-mentioned person either alone or jointly with any other person.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

Form of application

12. (1) Every application for a patent shall—

- (d) in so far as they are not already stated for the purposes of paragraph (c), state the full postal, residential and business addresses of the applicant.

(2) An assignee or legal representative making or joining in an application shall furnish such proof of title or authority as the Registrar may require or as may be prescribed.

(3) Every application form shall—

- (a) state that the applicant owns the invention in respect of Zambia;
- (b) give the full name of the inventor; and
- (c) where the inventor is not the applicant or one of the applicants, contain a declaration that the applicant believes him to be the inventor.

(4) Every convention application, in addition to the requirements set out in subsection (3), shall state—

- (a) the convention country in which such application for protection was made;
- (b) its number;
- (c) the effective date of such application; and
- (d) the respect in which the applicant in the convention country and in Zambia qualifies under Article 2 or 3 of the Convention.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

Complete and provisional specifications

13. (1) Every application for a patent, other than a convention application, shall be accompanied by either a complete specification or a provisional specification and every convention application shall be accompanied by a complete specification.

(2) If a complete specification does not accompany an application, it shall be lodged within twelve months after the date of lodging of the application or within such further period, not exceeding three months, as the Registrar may in writing allow upon payment of the prescribed fee, and if the provisions of this subsection are not complied with the application shall lapse.

(3) Where two or more applications accompanied by provisional specifications have been lodged in respect of inventions which are cognate or of which one is a modification of another, a single complete specification may, subject to the provisions of this section and section fourteen, be lodged in pursuance of those applications, or, if more than one complete specification has been lodged, may with the leave of the Registrar be proceeded with in respect of those applications.

(4) Where applications for protection have been made in one or more convention countries in respect of two or more inventions which are cognate or of which one is a modification of another, a single convention application may, subject to the provisions of sections eleven and fourteen, be made in respect of those inventions at any time within twelve months from the effective date of the earliest of the said applications for protection.

(5) In considering the validity of applications made in terms of subsection (3) or (4) and in determining other relevant matters under this Act, the Registrar shall have regard to the effective dates of the applications or the convention applications concerned relating to the several matters claimed in the specification, and the requirements of subsection (4) of section twelve shall, in the case of any such application, apply separately to the applications for protection in respect of each of the said inventions.

(6) Where an application for a patent, not being a convention application, is accompanied by a specification purporting to be a complete specification, the Registrar may, if the applicant so requests at any time before the acceptance of the specification, direct that it shall be treated for the purposes of this Act as a provisional specification and proceed with the application accordingly.

(7) Where a complete specification has been lodged in pursuance of an application for a patent accompanied by a provisional specification or by a specification treated by virtue of a direction under subsection (6) as a provisional specification, the Registrar may, if the applicant so requests at any time before the acceptance of the complete specification, cancel the provisional specification and post-date the application to the date of lodging of the complete specification.

Contents of
specification

14. (1) Every specification shall indicate whether it is a provisional or a complete specification and shall commence with a title sufficiently indicating the subject to which the relevant invention relates.

(2) A provisional specification shall fairly describe the invention.

(3) A complete specification shall—

- (a) fully describe the invention and the manner in which it is to be performed;
- (b) disclose the best method of performing the invention known to the applicant at the time when the specification is lodged at the Patent Office; and
- (c) end with a claim or claims defining the subject-matter for which protection is claimed.

(4) The claim or claims of a complete specification must relate to a single invention, must be clear and succinct, and must be fairly based on the matter disclosed in the specification.

(5) Every specification shall be accompanied by drawings if required by the Registrar, and such drawings shall be deemed to be part of the specification, but if drawings which accompanied a provisional specification are sufficient for the purpose of a complete specification, it shall suffice if that complete specification refers to such drawings.

(6) Subject to the foregoing provisions of this section, a complete specification lodged at the Patent Office after a provisional specification, or with a convention application, may include claims in respect of developments of or additions to the invention which was described in the provisional specification or, as the case may be, in respect of which application for protection was made in a convention country, being developments of or additions in respect of which the applicant would be entitled to make a separate application for a patent:

Provided that an application shall, in so far as the complete specification contains claims in respect of any such developments or additions, be deemed to have been made on the date on which the complete specification was lodged at the Patent Office.

(7) Where a complete specification claims a new substance, the claim shall be construed as not extending to that substance when found in nature.

Effective date of claims of complete
specification

15. (1) Every claim of a complete specification shall have effect from the date prescribed by this section in relation to that claim and a patent shall not be invalidated by reason only of the publication or use of the invention, so far as claimed in any claim of the complete specification, on or after the effective date of that claim, or by the grant of another patent upon a specification claiming the same invention in a claim of the same or later effective date.

(2) Where the complete specification is lodged in pursuance of a single application preceded by a provisional specification or by a specification which is treated by virtue of a direction under subsection (6) of section thirteen as a provisional specification, and the claim is fairly based on the matter disclosed in that specification, the effective date of that claim shall be the effective date of the application.

(3) Where the complete specification is lodged or proceeded with in pursuance of two or more applications accompanied by such specifications as are mentioned in subsection (2), and the claim is fairly based on the matter disclosed in one of those specifications, the effective date of that claim shall be the effective date of the application accompanied by that specification.

(4) Where the complete specification is lodged in pursuance of a convention application and the claim is fairly based on the matter disclosed in the application for protection in a convention country or, where the convention application is founded upon more than one such application for protection, in one of those applications, the effective date of that claim shall be the effective date of the relevant application for protection.

(5) Where, under the foregoing provisions of this section, any claim of a complete specification would, but for this provision, have two or more effective dates, the effective date of that claim shall be the earlier or earliest of those dates.

(6) In any case to which subsection (2), (3), (4) or (5) does not apply, the effective date of a claim shall be the date of lodging of the complete specification in Zambia.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

16. (1) The Registrar shall examine every application for a patent and every specification accompanying such application or lodged at the Patent Office in pursuance of such application, in order to ascertain—

- (b) in the case of a complete specification lodged after a provisional specification, or of a convention application, whether the invention claimed is substantially the same as that disclosed in the provisional specification or in the application lodged in the convention country, as the case may be.

(2) Any examination or investigation required in terms of subsection (1) may, on the direction of the Registrar, be undertaken by an examiner who shall report his findings on any such examination or investigation to the Registrar.

(3) An examination or investigation required by the provisions of this Act shall not be deemed to warrant the validity of any patent, and no liability shall be incurred by the Government, the Minister, the Registrar or any officer of the Patent Office by reason of or in connection with any such examination or investigation or report or other proceeding consequent thereon.

17. (1) At any time after an application has been lodged under this Act and before acceptance of the complete specification, the Registrar may, at the request of the applicant and upon payment of the prescribed fee, direct that the application shall be post-dated to such date as may be specified in the request:

Provided that—

- (i) no application shall be post-dated under this subsection to a date later than six months from the date on which it was actually lodged or would, but for this subsection, be deemed to have been so lodged; and
- (ii) a convention application shall not be post-dated under this subsection to a date later than the last date on which, under the provisions of this Act, the application could have been made.

(2) Where an application or specification lodged under this Act is amended before acceptance of the complete specification, the Registrar may direct that the application or specification shall be post-dated to the date on which it is amended or, if it has been returned to the applicant, to the date on which it is again lodged under this Act.

(3) Where, at any time after an application or specification has been lodged at the Patent Office and before acceptance of the complete specification, a fresh application or specification is lodged in respect of any part of the subject-matter of the first-mentioned application or specification, the Registrar may direct that the fresh application or specification shall be antedated to a date not earlier than the date of lodging of the first-mentioned application or specification.

(4) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under subsection (2) or (3).

18. (1) If it appears to the Registrar in the case of any application for a patent—

Refusal of application in certain cases

- (a) that it is frivolous on the ground that it claims as an invention anything obviously contrary to well-established natural laws; or
- (b) that the use of the invention in respect of which the application is made would be contrary to law or morality; or
- (c) that it claims as an invention a substance capable of being used as food or medicine which is a mixture of known ingredients possessing only the aggregate of the known properties of the ingredients, or that it claims as an invention a process producing such a substance by mere admixture;

he may refuse the application.

(2) If it appears to the Registrar that any invention in respect of which an application for a patent is made might be used in any manner contrary to law, he may refuse the application unless the specification is amended by the insertion of such disclaimer in respect of that use of the invention, or such other reference to the illegality thereof, as the Registrar thinks fit.

(3)* An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

19. (1) If, in the case of a complete specification lodged in pursuance of an application for a patent, which application was accompanied by a provisional specification, the result of any examination or investigation made in terms of section sixteen is adverse to the applicant in regard to any matter referred to in that section, or it is found that the invention described in the complete specification is not substantially the same as that described in the provisional specification or that the complete specification includes an invention not included in the provisional specification, the Registrar may, subject to the provisions of subsection (6) of section fourteen—

Powers of Registrar if specification or application defective

- (a) refuse to accept the complete specification until it has been amended to his satisfaction;
- (b) with the consent of the applicant, cancel the provisional specification and direct that the application be post-dated to the date upon which the complete specification was lodged at the Patent Office; or
- (c) where the complete specification includes an invention not included in the provisional specification, allow the application to be proceeded with in so far as the invention included both in the provisional and in the complete specification is concerned and allow an application for the additional invention included in the complete specification to be made and authorise the application for such additional invention.

if lodged at the Patent Office within such period as he may determine, to be dated with the date on which the complete specification was lodged at the Patent Office.

(2) If the case of a convention application it is found that the invention claimed is not substantially the same as that claimed in the application made in the convention country in question, the Registrar may, subject to the provisions of subsection (6) of section fourteen—

- (a) refuse to accept the application until it has been amended to his satisfaction; or
- (b) with the consent of the applicant, treat the application as an application in terms of section twelve.

(3) If in the case of a convention application it is found that the specification lodged in Zambia includes an invention not included in the specification lodged in the convention country, the Registrar may allow the application to be proceeded with in so far as the invention included in both the convention and the Zambian specification is concerned, and allow an application for the additional invention to be made and authorise such application, if lodged at the Patent Office within the period he may determine, to be dated with the date on which the Zambian specification was lodged at the Patent Office.

(4) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

applications

20. (1) If a complete specification is not accepted within thirty months from the date of lodging of an application, the application shall lapse unless—

- (a) an appeal has been lodged in respect of the application;
- (b) the time within which such appeal may be lodged has not expired; or
- (c) the delay in accepting the specification was not due to any neglect or default on the part of the applicant:

Provided that where an application is made for an extension of time for the acceptance of a complete specification, the Registrar shall, on payment of the prescribed fee, grant an extension of time to the extent applied for, but not exceeding three months.

(2) If, at the expiration of the period allowed under the provisions of subsection (1), an appeal to the High Court is pending under any of the provisions of this Act in respect of the application (or, in the case of an application for a patent of addition, either in respect of that application or in respect of the application for the patent for the main invention) or the time within which such an appeal could be brought in accordance with the provisions of Part XI, apart from any future extension of time thereunder, has expired, then—

- (a) where such an appeal is pending, or is brought within the time aforesaid or before the expiration of any extension of that time granted, in the case of the first extension, on an application made within that time or, in the case of a subsequent extension on an application made before the expiration of the last previous extension, the said period shall be extended until such date as the High Court determine;
- (b) where no such appeal is pending or is so brought, the said period shall continue until the end of the time aforesaid, or, if any extension of that time is granted as aforesaid, until the expiration of the extension or the last extension so granted.

*(As amended by No. 12 of 1959, S.I. No. 175 of 1965
and Act No. 18 of 1980)*

21. (1) Subject to the provisions of section twenty, the complete specification may be accepted by the Registrar at any time after the applicant has complied with the requirements imposed upon him by this Act:

Acceptance and publication of complete

Provided that the applicant may give notice to the Registrar requesting him to postpone acceptance until such date, not being later than eighteen months from the date of lodging of the application, as may be specified in the notice and the Registrar may postpone acceptance accordingly.

(2) On the acceptance of a complete specification, the Registrar shall give notice to the applicant who shall, within the prescribed period or within such further period as the Registrar may allow, advertise in the prescribed manner the fact that the specification has been accepted and, unless the acceptance of the specification is so advertised, the application shall lapse.

(3) Upon advertisement under the provisions of subsection (2), the application form, the specification and other documents essential to obtain acceptance lodged in pursuance thereof shall be open to public inspection.

(4) After the date of the publication as prescribed in subsection (2) of notice of acceptance of a complete specification and until the sealing of a patent in respect thereof, the applicant shall have the like privileges and rights as if a patent for the invention had been sealed on the date of the publication of such notice.

22. (1) Any person interested, including the State, may, within three months from the date of the advertisement of the acceptance of a complete specification or within such further period as the Registrar, on application made to him within the said period of three months, may allow, or, with the consent of the applicant, at any time before the sealing of the patent, oppose the grant of a patent in accordance with the provisions of this section by giving written notice to the Registrar of opposition to such grant on any of the following grounds and no others, namely:

- (a) that the applicant is not a person entitled under section eleven to make the application;
- (b) that the application is in fraud of the rights of the person giving such notice or of any persons under or through whom he claims;
- (c) that the invention does not relate to an art (whether producing a physical effect or not), process, machine, manufacture or composition of matter, which is capable of being applied in trade or industry;
- (d) subject to the provisions of section thirty-one, that the invention is obvious in that it involves no inventive step having regard to what was common knowledge in the art at the effective date of the application;
- (e) that the invention is not useful;
- (f) that the complete specification does not fully describe and ascertain the invention and the manner in which it is to be performed;
- (g) that the claims of the complete specification do not sufficiently and clearly define the subject-matter for which protection is claimed;
- (h) that the complete specification does not disclose the best method of performing the invention known to the applicant at the time when the specification was lodged at the Patent Office;
- (i) that the application contains a material misrepresentation;
- (j) that the invention described or claimed in the complete specification is not the same as that described in the provisional specification, and—
 - (i) in so far as it is not described in the provisional specification, was not new at the date when the complete specification was lodged at the Patent Office; or
 - (ii) forms the subject of a pending application made in Zambia for a patent the effective date of which is prior to the date on which the complete specification was lodged at the Patent Office;
- (k) in the case of a convention application, that the specification describes or claims an invention other than that for which protection has been applied for in the convention country and that such other invention either—

- (i) forms the subject of an application for a patent in Zambia which, if granted, would bear a date in the interval between the lodging of the application in the convention country and the effective date of the application in Zambia; or

(ii) is not an invention as defined in this Act:

- (l) that the invention was not new at the effective date of the application;
- (m) that the specification includes claims which, in terms of subsection (1) of section eighteen, should have been refused.

(2) A copy of any notice given under subsection (1), and of any statement which in terms of subsection (3) accompanies such notice, shall be served by the objector on the applicant for the patent.

(3) Any notice of opposition given under subsection (1) shall state the grounds on which the objector intends to oppose the grant of the patent, and shall be accompanied by a statement setting out particulars of the facts alleged in support of the said grounds, and proof of service on the applicant concerned of a copy of such notice and of such statement shall be furnished to the Registrar.

(4) If the applicant wishes to contest the opposition, he shall, within such time as is prescribed, or such further time as the Registrar may allow, lodge at the Patent Office a counter-statement setting out particulars of the grounds upon which the opposition is to be contested.

(5) A copy of any such counter-statement lodged at the Patent Office shall be served by the applicant on the objector concerned.

(6) Particulars delivered may from time to time be amended by leave of the Registrar.

(7) No evidence shall be admitted in proof of any ground on which particulars have not been delivered as aforesaid, except by leave of the High Court.

(8) When, in relation to any opposition, the foregoing provisions of this section have been complied with to the extent therein required, the Registrar shall hand all relevant papers to the registrar of the High Court who shall arrange for the matter to be heard by that Court in the manner prescribed and the Patents Tribunal may make such order therein as it deems just

(9) Upon being notified of the order of the High Court by the registrar thereof, the Registrar shall take such further action therein as may be necessary.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964, S.I. No. 175 of 1965 and Act No 18 of 1980)

Substitution of applicants

23. (1) If the Registrar is satisfied, on a claim made in the prescribed manner at any time before a patent has been granted, that by virtue of any assignment or agreement made by the applicant or one of the applicants for a patent, or by operation of law, the claimant would, if the patent were then granted, be entitled thereto or to the interest of an applicant therein, or to an undivided share of the patent or of that interest, the Registrar may, subject to the provisions of this section, direct that the application shall proceed in the name of the claimant or in the names of the claimant and the applicant or the other joint applicant or applicants, as the case may require.

(2) No such direction as aforesaid shall be given by virtue of any assignment or agreement made by one of two or more joint applicants for a patent except with the consent of the other joint applicant or applicants.

(3) No such direction as aforesaid shall be given by virtue of any assignment or agreement for the assignment of the right to an invention unless—

- (a) the invention is identified therein by reference to the number of the application for the patent;
- (b) there is produced to the Registrar an acknowledgement by the person by whom the assignment or agreement was made that the assignment or agreement relates to the invention in respect of which that application is made; or
- (c) the rights of the claimant in respect of the invention have been finally established by a decision of the High Court or any court to which an appeal against such a decision has been brought.

(4) Where one of two or more joint applicants for a patent has died at any time before the patent has been granted, the Registrar, if satisfied of such decease, may alter the application by substituting the legal representative of such deceased applicant and shall thereafter seal the application in the names of the surviving applicants and of such legal representative unless, upon a request in that behalf made by the survivor or survivors, and with the consent of such legal representative, the Registrar directs that the application shall proceed and be sealed in the name of the survivor or survivors alone.

(5) If any dispute arises between joint applicants for a patent whether or in what manner the application should be proceeded with, the Registrar may, upon application made to him in the prescribed manner by any of the parties, and after giving to all parties concerned an opportunity to be heard, give such directions as he thinks fit for enabling the application to proceed in the name of one or more of the parties alone or for regulating the manner in which it shall be proceeded with, or for both those purposes, as the case may require.

(6) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

(As amended by Act No. 18 of 1980)

24. (1) In this section the expression "competent authority" means the Minister designated as a competent authority by the President in the Gazette.

Provisions for secrecy of certain

(2) Where, before or after the commencement of this Act, an application for a patent has been made in respect of an invention, and it appears to the Registrar that the invention is one of a class notified to him by a competent authority as relevant for defence purposes, he may give directions for prohibiting or restricting the publication of information with respect to the invention, or the communication of such information to any person or class of persons specified in the directions, and while such directions are in force the application may, subject to the directions, proceed up to the acceptance of the complete specification, but the acceptance shall not be advertised nor the specification published, and no patent shall be granted in pursuance of the application.

(3) Where the Registrar gives any such directions as aforesaid, he shall give notice of the application and of the directions to the competent authority, and thereupon the following provisions shall have effect, that is to say:

- (a) the competent authority shall, upon receipt of such notice, consider whether the publication of the invention would be prejudicial to the defence of the Republic and unless a notice under paragraph (c) has previously been given by that authority to the Registrar, shall reconsider that question before the expiration of nine months from the date of lodging of the application for the patent and at least once in every subsequent year;
- (b) for the purpose aforesaid, the competent authority may, at any time after the complete specification has been accepted or, with the consent of the applicant, at any time before the complete specification has been accepted, inspect the application and any documents furnished to the Registrar in connection therewith;
- (c) if upon consideration of the invention at any time it appears to the competent authority that the publication of the invention would not, or would no longer, be prejudicial to the defence of the Republic, that authority shall give notice to the Registrar to that effect;
- (d) on the receipt of any such notice the Registrar shall revoke the directions and may, subject to such conditions, if any, as he thinks fit, extend the time for doing anything required or authorised to be done by or under this Act in connection with the application, whether or not that time has previously expired.

(4) When directions have been given under this section, if any use of the invention is made during the continuance in force of such directions by or on behalf of or to the order of a Government department, the provisions of section forty shall apply in relation to that use as if a patent had been granted for the invention.

(5) If an applicant for a patent has suffered loss or damage by reason of his invention having been kept secret in pursuance of a direction under subsection (2), the Minister, with the consent of the Minister responsible for finance, shall pay to him such reasonable compensation as is agreed upon, or, in default of agreement, as may be determined by the High Court on a reference under subsection (1) of section forty-two.

(6) Where a patent is granted in pursuance of an application in respect of which directions have been given under this section, no renewal fees shall be payable in respect of any period during which those directions were in force.

(7) If any person fails to comply with any direction given under this section, he shall be guilty of an offence.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964, S.I. No. 175 of 1965 and Act No 18 of 1980)

PART V

GRANT, EFFECT AND TERM OF PATENT

Grant and
patent

25. (1) If the conditions precedent to the grant of a patent, as prescribed in this Act, have been complied with and there is no opposition to such grant or, in the event of such opposition, the final determination is in favour of the grant of a patent, a patent shall be granted to the applicant, or, in the case of an application by two or more persons jointly, to the applicants jointly, and the Registrar shall cause the patent to be sealed with the seal of the Patent Office:

Provided that—

- (i) where an applicant under a joint application has died, the patent may, with the consent of his heir or legal representative, be granted to the survivors of the joint applicants;
- (ii) where an applicant has agreed in writing to assign the invention or a share in the invention or, in the case of an application by two or more persons jointly, his interest in the invention, to another person, the patent may, upon proof of the agreement to the satisfaction of the Registrar, be granted to and in the name of the assignee either solely or jointly with the applicant or, in the case of an application by two or more persons jointly, to and in the name of the assignee jointly with the other applicants or their assignees.

(2) A patent shall be sealed as soon as may be, but not later than twenty-two months after the date of lodging of the application therefor:

Provided that—

- (i) where the Registrar or the High Court has allowed an extension of the time within which a complete specification may be lodged or accepted, a corresponding extension of the time for the sealing of the relevant patent shall be allowed;
- (ii) where the sealing is delayed by an appeal or by opposition to the grant of the patent; the patent may be sealed at such time as the Registrar may determine;
- (iii) where the patent is to be granted to the heir or legal representative of an applicant who has died before the expiration of the time which would otherwise be allowed for sealing the patent, the patent may be sealed at such later time as the Registrar may decide;
- (iv) the Registrar may, on payment of the prescribed fee, extend the period of twenty-two months for such further time as may be prescribed;
- (v) where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Registrar that hardship would arise in connection with the prosecution of the corresponding application for a patent in any country outside Zambia unless the period for the sealing of such patent is extended, that period may be extended from time to time by the Registrar to such periods as appear to him to be necessary in order to prevent the hardship arising, if an application in that behalf is made to him and the prescribed fee is paid within the first-mentioned period or, in the case of a subsequent application under this paragraph, within the period to which such first-mentioned period was extended on the last preceding application.

*(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964
and Act No 18 of 1980)*

26. Where, at any time after a patent has been sealed in pursuance of an application under this Act, the Registrar is satisfied that the person to whom the patent was granted had died, or, in the case of a body corporate, had ceased to exist, before the patent was sealed,

Amendment

he may amend the patent by substituting for the name of that person the name of the person entitled thereto according to law, and the patent shall have effect, and shall be deemed always to have had effect, accordingly.

- (d) in the case of a patent granted under the *Patents (Transitional Provisions) Act, 1958, the date specified in paragraph (b) or (c), as the case may be.

(2) The date of a patent referred to in paragraph (a) or (d) of subsection (1) shall be entered in the register.

(3) The date of a patent referred to in paragraph (a) or (d) of subsection (1) shall be inserted in the patent.

(No. 12 of 1959 as amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964 and S.I. No. 175 of 1965)

Extent, effect
patent

28. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, a patent shall have the same effect against the State as it has against a subject.

(2) A patent shall be in such form as may be prescribed.

(3) A patent shall be granted for one invention only, but it shall not be competent for any person in an action or other proceeding to take any objection to a patent on the ground that it has been granted for more than one invention.

(4) The effect of a patent shall be to grant to the patentee, subject to the provisions of this Act and the conditions of the patent, full power, sole privilege and authority by himself, his agents and licensees during the term of the patent to make, use, exercise and vend the invention within Zambia in such a manner as to him seems meet, so that he shall have and enjoy the whole profit and advantage accruing by reason of the invention during the term of the patent.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964 and S.I. No. 175 of 1965)

29. The term of every patent shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be— Term of patent

- (a) in the case of a patent granted under this Act, sixteen years from the date of lodging of the complete specification at the Patent Office;
- (b) in the case of a patent granted under the Patents (Southern Rhodesia) Act, Chapter 208 of the 1948 Edition of the Laws, fourteen years from the date the patent was sealed;

*(No. 12 of 1959 as amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964
and S.I. No. 175 of 1965)*

30. (1) A patentee or an exclusive licensee may, after advertising in the prescribed manner, apply to the Registrar for an extension of the term of the relevant patent on any one or more of the following grounds, namely:

Extension of patent

- (a) that he has not derived adequate remuneration from that patent;
- (b) that by reason of hostilities between the Republic or any country of the Commonwealth and any foreign state, he has suffered loss or damage including—
 - (i) loss or damage arising out of action taken in pursuance of an official request to keep secret the specification of the invention to which the patent relates; and
 - (ii) loss of opportunity for dealing in or developing the invention on account of—
 - A. the fact that he or his employees were engaged in work of national importance; or
 - B. lack of supplies or loss of markets as a result of such hostilities, wherever such lack or loss occurs.

(2) Any such application may be made—

- (a) in the case of an application under paragraph (a) of subsection (1), not more than twelve and not less than six months before the date of expiration of the term of the patent in question or at such later time, being not later than the date of expiration of the patent, as the Registrar may allow; and

- (b) in the case of an application under paragraph (b) of subsection (1), at any time before the date of expiration of the patent or within two years after the date on which hostilities ceased, whichever is the later date.

(3) Any person may within the prescribed time give written notice to the Registrar and the applicant of objection to any such extension, and the Registrar shall fix a date for the hearing of the application and shall advise the applicant and any objector of the date so fixed.

(4) The Registrar may, after hearing the applicant and any person who may have objected to the extension, refuse the application or order the extension of the term of the patent in question for such period and subject to such conditions as it may deem fit or, if the patent has already lapsed, order the issue of a new patent for such a period and subject to such conditions:

Provided that no such extension shall be granted—

- (i) on the grounds mentioned in paragraph (a) of subsection (1) for a term exceeding five years or, in what the Registrar may deem to be exceptional circumstances, ten years; or
- (ii) on the grounds mentioned in paragraph (b) of subsection (1), for a term exceeding the period of hostilities.

(5) The provisions of section thirty-four shall mutatis mutandis apply in respect of any extension of the term of a patent granted as a result of an application under paragraph (b) of subsection (1):

Provided that in the application of those provisions the reference in that section to a period of three months from the date on which any renewal fee referred to therein was due shall be construed as a reference to the date on which any patent whereof the term is extended under this section lapsed by effluxion of time.

(6) An extension of the term of a patent under this section shall be endorsed on the relevant patent by the Registrar and recorded in the register.

(7) Except where the Registrar otherwise decides, an application based on the grounds specified in paragraph (b) of subsection (1) shall not be considered if the patentee or exclusive licensee is a subject of such foreign state as is referred to in that paragraph or is a company the business whereof is managed or controlled by such subjects or is carried on wholly or mainly for the benefit or on behalf of such subjects, notwithstanding that the company may be registered in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act.

(8) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this Section.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964; S.I. No. 175 of 1965 and Act No. 18 of 1980)

31. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, where an application for a patent is pending or has been granted thereon for an invention (hereinafter referred to as the main invention) and the applicant or patentee applies for a further patent in respect of any improvement in or modification of the main invention, the Registrar may, if the applicant so requests, grant a patent for the improvement or modification as a patent of addition.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this section, where an invention, being an improvement in or modification of another invention, is the subject of an independent patent and the patentee in respect of that patent is also the patentee in respect of the patent for the main invention, the Registrar may, if the patentee so requests, by order revoke the patent for the improvement or modification and grant to the patentee a patent of addition in respect thereof, bearing the same date as the date of the patent so revoked.

(3) A patent shall not be granted as a patent of addition unless the date of lodging of the complete specification was the same as or later than the date of lodging of the complete specification in respect of the main invention.

(4) A patent of addition shall not be sealed before the sealing of the patent for the main invention, and if the period within which, but for this provision, the sealing of a patent of addition could be made under section five expires before the period within which the sealing of the patent for the main invention may be so made, the sealing of the patent of addition may be made at any time within the last-mentioned period.

(5) A patent of addition shall remain in force for as long as the patent for the main invention shall remain in force, including any extension of the term thereof but no longer, and no fees shall be payable for renewal of a patent of addition:

Provided that, where the patent for the main invention is revoked, the Registrar or the High Court, as the case may be, may order that the patent of addition shall become an independent patent, and the fees payable in respect of such independent patent and the times for the payment thereof shall be determined according to the date of the former patent of addition, but the normal term of the independent patent shall not extend beyond the date on which the patent for the main invention would have expired if it had not been revoked.

(6) The grant of a patent of addition shall be conclusive evidence that the invention is a proper subject for such a patent, and shall not be refused, nor shall any such patent be liable to be revoked or invalidated, on the ground only that the invention claimed in the complete specification does not involve any inventive step having regard to the main invention, so, however, that the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to an independent patent referred to in the proviso to subsection (5).

(7) A patent for a main invention and its patent of addition shall not be capable of assignment apart from one another.

(8) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

(As amended by Act No. 18 of 1980)

Renewal of
patents

32. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, every patent, including a patent granted or registered under the Registration of United Kingdom Patents Act, Chapter 205 of the 1957 Edition of the Laws, or the Patents (Southern Rhodesia) Act, Chapter 208 of the 1948 Edition of the Laws, or the Patents (Transitional Provisions) Act, 1958, shall lapse if the fees prescribed for its renewal are not paid within the prescribed times.

(2) The Registrar may, upon application of the patentee and subject to the payment of such additional fees as may be prescribed, extend the time for payment of a fee referred to in subsection (1) for a period not exceeding six months.

(No. 12 of 1959 as amended by No. 36 of 1960, G.N. No. 185 of 1964 and S.I. No. 175 of 1965)

Restoration of lapsed patents

33. (1) Where a patent has lapsed owing to the failure of the patentee to pay any prescribed fee within the prescribed time, the patentee may in the prescribed manner apply to the Registrar for the restoration of the patent.

(2) If the Registrar is satisfied that such failure was unintentional, and that no undue delay has occurred in making the application, he shall direct the patentee to advertise the application in the prescribed manner, and thereupon any person may within such time as may be prescribed give notice in the prescribed manner of opposition to the restoration of the patent.

(3) If there is no opposition to such restoration, the Registrar shall, on payment of the unpaid renewal fees, make an order restoring the patent.

(4) Where notice of opposition is given, the Registrar shall notify the applicant thereof and shall, after the expiration of the prescribed period and after hearing the applicant and the objector, decide the matter and make an order either restoring the patent, subject to the provisions of section thirty-four, or dismissing the application.

(5) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

34. In every order restoring a lapsed patent made under section thirty-three, there shall be inserted for the protection of persons who may have availed themselves of the subject-matter of the patent after a lapse of a period of three months from the date on which the renewal fee was due, the following provisions, namely, that the patentee shall not commence or prosecute any action or other proceedings or recover damages:

Protective provisions to be inserted in order for restoration of patent

- (a) in respect of any infringement of the patent which has taken place after the lapse of the said period and before the date of the order;
- (b) in respect of any use of the subject-matter of the patent at any time after the date of the order by the employment of any means or composition of matter actually made within or imported into Zambia, or in respect of any process put into operation in Zambia in infringement of the patent after the lapse of the said period and before the date of the order, or in respect of the sale, purchase or use of any article which is the product of the use of the said means, composition of matter or process:

Provided that the employment of the said means, composition of matter or process shall be limited to the person by or for whom the said means, composition of matter or process was so made, imported or put into operation, his legal representative, his successors or assigns, or his vendees, as the case may be;

- (c) in respect of the employment at any time after the date of the order of any further means, composition of matter or process, being a reproduction or improvement of the means, composition of matter or process referred to in paragraph (b) or in respect of the sale, purchase or use of any article which is the product of the said further means, composition of matter or process:

Provided that the employment of the said further means, composition of matter or process shall be limited to a person entitled to use, as aforesaid the means, composition of matter or process specified in that paragraph.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

35. (1) At any time after the sealing of a patent the patentee may apply to the Registrar for the patent to be endorsed with the words "licences of right" and where such an application is made, the Registrar shall notify the application to any person entered on the register as entitled to an interest in the patent and if satisfied, after giving any such person an opportunity to be heard, that the patentee is not precluded by contract from granting licences under the patent, cause the patent to be endorsed accordingly, so, however, that no such endorsement shall be made in respect of an exclusive licence.

Endorsement of patent "licences of right"

(2) Where a patent is endorsed under this section—

- (a) any person shall, at any time thereafter, be entitled as of right to a licence under the patent upon such terms as may, in default of agreement and subject to the provisions of subsection (3), be settled by the Registrar on the application of the patentee or the person requiring the licence;
- (b) the Registrar may, on the application of the holder of any licence granted under the patent before the endorsement, order the licence to be exchanged for a licence to be granted by virtue of the endorsement upon terms to be settled as aforesaid;
- (c) if in proceedings for infringement of the patent, otherwise than by the importation of goods, the defendant undertakes to take a licence upon terms to be settled by the Registrar as aforesaid, no interdict or injunction shall be granted against him, and the amount, if any, recoverable against him by way of damages shall not exceed double the amount which would have been payable by him as licensee if such a licence had been granted before the earliest infringement;
- (d) the renewal fees payable in respect of the patent after the date of the endorsement shall be one-half of the renewal fees which would be payable if the patent were not so endorsed.

(3) In settling the terms of the licence for the purposes of paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection (2), the Registrar shall—

- (a) take cognizance of the provisions of section thirty-eight with respect to a patent falling under that section; and
- (b) provide, inter alia, for the following matters:
 - (i) the period of the licence;
 - (ii) the terms of renewal, if any;
 - (iii) the amount of and method for payment of royalties;
 - (iv) arrangements for cancellation of the licence upon application made to him by the patentee after failure by the licensee to pay royalties or to observe any other conditions included in the licence by the Registrar, who is hereby authorised to include such conditions, so, however, that no such licence may be cancelled unless the licensee, after reasonable notice given to him by the patentee, has failed to observe such conditions.

(4) The licensee under any licence granted by virtue of the endorsement of a patent under this section shall, unless in the case of a licence the terms of which are settled by agreement the licensee otherwise expressly provides, be entitled to call upon the patentee to take proceedings to prevent any infringement of the patent, and if the patentee refuses or neglects to do so within two months after being so called upon, the licensee may institute proceedings for the infringement in his own name as if he were patentee, making the patentee a defendant:

Provided that a patentee so added as defendant shall not be liable for any costs unless he enters an appearance and takes part in the proceedings.

(5) An application for the endorsement of a patent under this section shall contain a statement, to be verified in such manner as may be prescribed, that the patentee is not precluded by contract from granting licences under the patent, and the Registrar may require from the applicant such further evidence as he may think necessary.

(6) An application made under this section for the endorsement of a patent of addition shall be treated as an application for the endorsement of the patent for the main invention also, and an application made under this section for the endorsement of a patent in respect of which a patent of addition is in force shall be treated as an application for the endorsement of the patent of addition also, and where a patent of addition is granted in respect of a patent already endorsed under this section, the patent of addition shall also be so endorsed:

Provided that no royalty shall be paid by a licensee in respect of such endorsement.

(7) All endorsements of patents under this section shall be entered in the register and shall be published in the prescribed manner.

(8) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

36. (1) Within such time as may be prescribed after a patent has been endorsed under section thirty-five, the patentee may apply to the Registrar for cancellation of the endorsement and where such an application is made and the balance paid of all renewal fees which would have been payable if the patent had not been endorsed, the Registrar may, if satisfied that there is no existing licence under the patent or that all licensees under the patent consent to the application, cancel the endorsement accordingly.

Cancellation
of endorsement made under section
35

(2) Within the prescribed period after a patent has been endorsed as aforesaid, any person who claims that the patentee is, and was at the time of the endorsement, precluded by a contract in which the claimant is interested from granting licences under the patent may apply to the Registrar for cancellation of the endorsement.

(3) Where the Registrar is satisfied, on application made under subsection (2), that the patentee is and was precluded as aforesaid, he shall cancel the endorsement, and thereupon the patentee shall be liable to pay, within such period as may be prescribed, a sum equal to the balance of all renewal fees which would have been payable if the patent had not been endorsed, and if that sum is not paid within that period the patent shall cease to have effect at the expiration of that period.

(4) Where the endorsement of a patent is cancelled under this section, the rights and liabilities of the patentee with respect to it shall thereafter be the same as if the endorsement had not been made.

(5) An applicant shall advertise in the prescribed manner any application made by him under this section and within the prescribed period after such advertisement—

- (a) in the case of an application under subsection (1), any person interested; and
- (b) in the case of an application under subsection (2), the patentee and either additionally or alternatively any person interested;

may give notice to the Registrar of opposition to the cancellation.

(6) Where any such notice of opposition is given, the Registrar shall fix a date for the hearing of the application and shall advise in writing the parties of the date so fixed, and shall, after giving the applicant and the opponent an opportunity to be heard, give such decision on the application as he may consider just.

(7) An application made under this section for the cancellation of the endorsement of a patent of addition shall be treated as an application for the cancellation of the endorsement of the patent for the main invention also, and an application made under this section for the cancellation of the endorsement of a patent in respect of which a patent of addition is in force shall be treated as an application for the cancellation of the endorsement of the patent of addition also.

(8) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

37. (1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (14), any person interested who can show that he has been unable to obtain a licence under a patent on reasonable terms may, after the expiration of a period of three years subsequent to the date on which that patent was sealed or four years subsequent to the date on which the application in respect thereof was lodged, whichever period last expires, apply to the Registrar in the prescribed manner for a compulsory licence on the ground that the reasonable requirements of the public with respect to the invention in question have not been or will not be satisfied.

(2) Every application under this section shall set out fully the nature of the applicant's interest, the facts on which he bases his case and the relief he seeks, and shall be accompanied by an affidavit verifying the facts set out in such application.

(3) If, after consideration of any such application, the Registrar is satisfied that the applicant has a bona fide interest, and that a prima facie case for relief has been made out, he shall direct the applicant to serve copies of the application and of the relevant affidavit upon the patentee and upon any other person appearing from the register to be interested in the patent, and to advertise the application in the prescribed manner.

(4) If the patentee or any other person wishes to oppose the grant of a licence under this section, he may, within the prescribed period or within such further period as the Registrar may on application allow, deliver to the Registrar a counter-statement, verified by affidavit, setting out fully the ground on which the application is opposed, and shall at the same time serve upon the applicant copies of the counter-statement.

(5) When, in relation to an application or an opposition thereto, the foregoing provisions of this section have been complied with to the extent therein required, the Registrar shall send all relevant papers to the High Court, and that court shall arrange for the matter to be heard in the manner prescribed and, subject to the provisions of this section, the High Court may make such order therein as it deems just.

(6) The reasonable requirements of the public referred to in subsection (1) shall be deemed not to have been satisfied in any of the following circumstances, namely:

- (a) if the patented invention, being an invention capable of being worked in Zambia, is not being worked therein on a commercial scale and there is no satisfactory reason for such non-working:

Provided that, if an application for a compulsory licence is made on this ground and the High Court is of the opinion that the time which has elapsed since the sealing of the patent has by reason of the nature of the invention or for any other reason been insufficient to enable the invention to be worked within Zambia on a commercial scale, the High Court may make an order adjourning the hearing of the application for such period as will in its opinion be sufficient for that purpose;

- (b) if the working of the invention within Zambia on a commercial scale is being prevented or hindered by the importation of the patented article by the patentee or persons claiming under him, or by persons directly or indirectly purchasing from him or by persons against whom the patentee is not taking or has not taken proceedings for infringement;
- (c) if the demand for the patented article in Zambia is not being met to an adequate extent and on reasonable terms;
- (d) if by reason of the refusal of the patentee to grant a licence or licences upon reasonable terms, the trade or industry of Zambia or the trade of any person or class of persons trading in Zambia, or the establishment of any new trade or industry in Zambia, is being prejudiced, and it is in the public interest that a licence or licences should be granted;
- (e) if any trade or industry in Zambia, or any person or class of persons engaged therein, is being prejudiced by unfair conditions attached by the patentee, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, to the purchase, hire, licence or use of the patented article, or the using or working of the patented process;
- (f) if any condition which under the provisions of section forty-nine is null and void as being in restraint of trade and contrary to public policy, has been inserted in any contract made in relation to the sale or lease of or any licence to use or work any article or process protected by the patent:

Provided that, for the purpose of determining whether there has been any abuse of the monopoly rights under a patent, due regard shall be had to the fact that patents are granted not only to encourage invention but also to secure that inventions shall so far as possible be worked on a commercial scale in Zambia without undue delay.

(7) The High Court may order the grant to the applicant of a licence on such terms as it may think expedient, including a term precluding the licensee from importing into Zambia any goods whereof the importation by persons other than the patentee or persons claiming under him, would be an infringement of the patent.

(8) If in respect of an application under this section the High Court is satisfied that the invention which is the subject of the application is not being worked on a commercial scale within Zambia, and is such that it cannot be so worked without the expenditure of capital for the raising of which it will be necessary to rely on the patent monopoly, it may, unless the patentee or those claiming under him will undertake to find such capital, order the grant to the applicant or any other person, or to the applicant jointly with one or more other persons, if able and willing to provide such capital, of an exclusive licence on such terms as the High Court may think just, but subject as hereinafter provided.

(9) The terms of any exclusive licence ordered to be granted under subsection (8) shall, with due regard to the risks to be undertaken by the licensee in providing the capital and working the invention, be so framed as—

- (a) to secure to the patentee the maximum royalty compatible with the successful working of the invention within Zambia on a commercial scale and at a reasonable profit;
- (b) to guarantee to the patentee a minimum yearly sum by way of royalty, if and so far as it is reasonable to do so;

and in addition to any other terms of the licence or order, the licence and the order shall be made revocable at the discretion of the High Court if the licensee fails to—

- (i) work the invention within the time specified in the order;
- (ii) expend the amount specified in the licence as being the amount which he is able and willing to provide for the purpose of working the invention on a commercial scale within Zambia; or
- (iii) pay to the patentee the royalties payable in terms of the licence.

(10) In deciding to whom an exclusive licence is to be granted, the High Court shall, unless good reason is shown to the contrary, prefer an existing licensee to a person who, according to the register, has no interest in the patent.

(11) The order directing the grant of an exclusive licence under this section shall operate to divest the patentee of any right which he may have as patentee to work or use the invention, and to revoke all existing licences, unless otherwise provided in the order, and may, if considered fair and equitable by the High Court, be made subject to the condition that the licensee shall give proper compensation to be fixed by the High Court for any money or labour expended by the patentee or any existing licensee in developing or working the invention.

(12) A licensee under this section shall be entitled to call upon the patentee concerned to institute any proceedings which may be necessary to prevent infringement of the patent in question and shall in all other respects have the same rights as any other licensee, and if the patentee fails within two months after being called upon by the licensee, or within such further period as the High Court may allow, to institute any such proceedings, the licensee may himself institute such proceedings as if he were the patentee, making the patentee a defendant, but the patentee shall not be liable for any costs in connection with such proceedings unless he enters an appearance and takes part in those proceedings.

(13) The existence of a compulsory licence granted solely on the ground that an invention is not being worked in Zambia on a commercial scale shall not preclude the grant of further licences (including compulsory licences) in respect of that invention, but the holder of any compulsory licence shall not be entitled to transfer that licence or grant a sub-licence thereunder except to a person to whom the business, or the part of the business in connection with which the rights under the licence were exercised, has been transferred.

(14) Except in the case of a licence to be granted under subsection (8), no licence shall be granted in terms of this section or of section thirty-eight while the relevant patent remains endorsed "licences of right" under section thirty-five.

(15) For the purposes of this section, the expression "patented article" includes any article made by a patented process.

(As amended by No. 36 of 1960, G.N. No. 185 of 1964
and Act No. 18 of 1980)

- (b) a process for producing such a substance as aforesaid; or
- (c) any invention capable of being used as or as part of a surgical or curative device;

the High Court shall, on application made to it by any person interested, order the grant to the applicant of a licence under the patent on such terms as it thinks fit unless it appears to the Court that there are good reasons for refusing the application.

(2) In setting the terms of licences under this section, the High Court shall endeavour to secure that food, medicines, and surgical and curative devices shall be available to the public at the lowest prices consistent with the patentees deriving a reasonable advantage from their patent rights.

(3) A licence granted under this section shall entitle the licensee to make, use, exercise and vend the invention as a food or medicine, or for the purposes of the production of food or medicine or as part of a surgical or curative device, but for no other purposes.

Supplementary provisions

(5) Where any use of an invention is made by or with the authority of the Minister under this section, then, unless it appears to him that it would be contrary to the public interest so to do, the Minister shall notify the patentee as soon as practicable after the use is begun, and furnish him with such information as to the extent of the use as he may from time to time require.

(6) For the purposes of this section, section forty-one and section forty-two, any use of an invention for the supply to the government of any country outside Zambia, in pursuance of any agreement or arrangement between the Government and the government of that country, of articles required for the defence of that country shall be deemed to be a use of the invention for the services of the State, and the power of a Government department or a person authorised by the

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO SPECIFICATIONS, ANTICIPATION AND RIGHTS IN INVENTIONS

Amendment
of specification by Registrar

43. (1) An applicant for a patent or a patentee may, at any time by request in writing lodged at the Patent Office, seek leave to amend either his provisional or his complete specification, including drawings forming part thereof, and shall in making any such request state the nature of the proposed amendment and the reasons therefor.

(2) Where there are joint applicants or patentees, the request shall be made by them jointly or by one or more of them with the written consent of the other or others, and in the case of disagreement between them the Registrar may, if satisfied that one or more of them should be allowed to proceed alone and subject to such conditions as he may impose, permit the request to be made without the consent of the others:

Provided that all parties interested shall be notified by the applicant of the request and be entitled to be heard before any decision is given thereon.

(3) An amendment of an accepted complete specification shall be allowed only if it is by way of disclaimer, correction or explanation, and no amendment of any specification, except by way of correcting an obvious mistake, shall be allowed if the result would be that the specification as amended would claim or describe matter not in substance disclosed in the specification before amendment, or would include any claim not wholly within the scope of a claim included in the specification before amendment.

(4) The request for an amendment of an accepted complete specification and its nature shall be advertised by the applicant in the prescribed manner, and at any time within three months of the advertisement, or such further time as the Registrar, subject to such conditions as he may impose, may allow, any person may give notice at the Patent Office of opposition to the amendment.

(5) Notice of opposition shall be given in the prescribed manner to the Registrar and to the person making the request, and the Registrar shall hear the person making the request and the person who has given notice of opposition and determine whether and subject to what conditions, if any, the amendment ought to be allowed.

(6) Where a complete specification has not been accepted or, if it has been accepted, no notice of opposition has been given or any such notice has been withdrawn, the Registrar shall determine whether and subject to what conditions, if any, the amendment ought to be allowed.

(7) No request for amendment under this section shall be allowed if and so long as any proceedings are pending for infringement or revocation of the patent in question.

(8) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

44. In any action for infringement of a patent or any proceedings before the High Court for the revocation of a patent, that court may, subject to the provisions of subsection (3) of section forty-three, allow the patentee to amend his complete specification in such manner and subject to such terms as to costs, advertisement or otherwise as that court may think fit, and, if in any such proceedings for revocation the High Court decides that the patent is invalid, it may allow the specification to be amended under this section instead of revoking the patent.

Amendment of specification with leave of High Court

(As amended by Act No. 18 of 1980)

45. Where an amendment of a specification by way of disclaimer, correction or explanation has been allowed under this Act after the publication of the specification, no damages shall be awarded in any proceedings in respect of the use of the invention before the date of the decision allowing the amendment, unless the High Court is satisfied that the specification as originally published was framed in good faith and with reasonable skill and knowledge.

Restrictions on recovery of damages in certain cases

(As amended by Act No. 18 of 1980)

46. (1) A patent shall not be refused or held to be invalid by reason only of the fact that the invention in respect of which the patent is applied for or was granted or any part thereof was published, used or known prior to the effective date of the application, if the applicant or the patentee, as the case may be, proves that the knowledge was acquired or the publication or use was made without his knowledge or consent, and that the knowledge acquired or the matter published or used was derived or obtained from him, and, if he learnt of the disclosure, use or knowledge before the effective date of his application for the patent, that he applied for and obtained protection for his invention with all reasonable diligence after learning of the disclosure:

Savings for anticipation

Provided that the protection afforded by this section shall not extend to a patentee or an applicant for a patent who has or whose predecessors in title have prior to the effective date of the application worked the invention in the former Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland or, after the 1st January, 1964, in the former Protectorate of Northern Rhodesia or, after the 24th October, 1964, in the Republic commercially, otherwise than for the purpose of reasonable technical trial thereof.

(2) An invention claimed in a complete specification shall not be deemed to have been anticipated by reason only of the communication of the invention to a Government department or to any person authorised by the Minister to investigate the invention or its merits, or of anything done by any person whomsoever in consequence of such a communication, for the purpose of the investigation.

*(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964
and S.I. No. 175 of 1965)*

Co-ownership of patents

47. (1) Where a patent is granted to two or more persons, each of those persons shall, unless an agreement to the contrary is in force, be entitled to an equal undivided share in the patent.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this section, where two or more persons are registered as patentees then, unless an agreement to the contrary is in force, each of those persons shall be entitled by himself or his agents, to make, use, exercise and vend the patented invention for his own benefit without accounting to the other or others.

(3) Subject to the provisions of subsections (6), (7) and (8) and to any agreement for the time being in force, a licence under a patent shall not be granted, and a share in a patent shall not be assigned, except with the consent of all persons, other than the licensor or assignor, who are registered as patentees.

(4) Where a patented article is sold by one of two or more persons registered as patentees, the purchaser and any person claiming through him shall in respect of such article be entitled to deal with it in the same manner as if it had been sold by a sole patentee.

(5) Subject to the provisions of this section, the rules of law applicable to the ownership and devolution of movable or personal property generally shall apply in relation to patents as they apply in relation to other incorporeal rights or choses in action.

(6) Where two or more persons are registered as patentees, the Registrar may, upon application made to him in the prescribed manner by any of those persons, give such directions in accordance with the application as to the sale or lease of the patent or any interest therein, the grant of licences under the patent or the exercise of any right under subsections (1) to (5) in relation thereto, as he thinks fit.

(7) If any person registered as patentee fails to execute any instrument or to do any other thing required for the carrying out of any direction given under this section within fourteen days after being requested in writing so to do by any of the other persons so registered, the Registrar may, upon application made to him in the prescribed manner by any such other person, give directions empowering any person to execute that instrument or to do that thing in the name and on behalf of the person in default.

(8) Before giving directions in pursuance of an application under subsection (6) or (7), the Registrar shall give an opportunity to be heard—

- (a) in the case of an application under subsection (6), to the other person or persons registered as patentees;
- (b) in the case of an application under subsection (7), to the person in default.

(9) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

(10) No directions shall be given under this section so as to affect the mutual rights or obligations of trustees or of the legal representatives of a deceased person, or their rights or obligations as such.

48. (1) Where a dispute arises between an employer and a person who is or was at the material time his employee as to the rights of the parties in respect of an invention made by the employee either alone or jointly with other employees or in respect of any patent granted or to be granted in respect thereof, the Registrar may, upon application made to him in the prescribed manner by either of the parties, and after giving to each of them an opportunity to be heard, determine the matter in dispute, and may make such orders for giving effect to his decision as he considers expedient.

Disputes as to inventions
made by employees

(2) In proceedings before the High Court between an employer and a person who is or was at the material time his employee, or upon an application made to the Registrar under subsection (1), the High Court or Registrar, as the case may be, may, unless satisfied that one or other of the parties is entitled, to the exclusion of the other, to the benefit of an invention made by the employee, by order provide for the apportionment between them of the benefit of the invention, and of any patent granted or to be granted in respect thereof, in such manner as the High Court or Registrar considers just

(3) A decision of the Registrar under this section shall have the same effect as between the parties and persons claiming under them as a decision of the High Court.

(4) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

Avoidance of certain
restrictive conditions in contracts

49. (1) It shall not be lawful in any contract made after the commencement of this Act in relation to the sale or lease of or a licence to use or work any article or process protected by a patent to insert a condition the effect of which will be—

- (a) to prohibit or restrict the purchaser, lessee or licensee from using any article or class of articles, whether patented or not, or any patented process, supplied or owned by any person other than the seller, lessor or licensor or his nominee; or
- (b) to require the purchaser, lessee or licensee to acquire from the seller, lessor or licensor or his nominee any article or class of articles not protected by the patent;

and any such condition shall be null and void, as being in restraint of trade and contrary to public policy:

Provided that this subsection shall not apply if—

- (i) the seller, lessor or licensor proves that at the time the contract was entered into, the purchaser, lessee or licensee had the option of purchasing the article or obtaining a lease or licence on reasonable terms without such conditions as aforesaid; and
- (ii) the contract entitles the purchaser, lessee or licensee to relieve himself of his liability to observe any such condition on giving the other party three months' notice in writing and on payment, if the Registrar so directs, of compensation for such relief, in the case of a purchase of such sum, or in case of a lease or licence of such rent or royalty for the residue of the term of the contract, as may be fixed by the Registrar.

An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under proviso (ii).

(2) Any contract relating to the lease of or licence to use or work any patented article or patented process may, at any time after the patent or all the patents by which the article or process was protected in Zambia at the time of the making of the contract has or have ceased to be in force, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the same or in any other contract, be determined by either party on giving three months' notice in writing to the other party.

(3) Nothing in this section shall—

- (a) affect any condition in a contract whereby any person is prohibited from selling any goods other than those of a particular person;
- (b) be construed as validating any contract which would, apart from this section, be invalid;

- (c) affect any right of determining a contract or condition in a contract exercisable independently of this section;
- (d) affect any condition in a contract for the lease of or a licence to use a patented article, whereby the lessor or licensor reserves to himself or his nominee the right to supply such new parts of the patented article as may be required to put or keep it in repair.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964).

Revocation of
patents

50. (1) Application for revocation of a patent may be made to the High Court by any person interested, including the State, upon any one or more of the grounds on which the grant of a patent might have been opposed, but subject to the provisions of subsection (2), of proviso (ii) to paragraph (b) of subsection (7) of section eight, and of paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section ten, on no other grounds.

(2) Where an order for the granting of a licence under the patent has been made in pursuance of an application under section thirty-seven any person interested may, at any time after the expiration of two years from the date of that order, apply to the High Court for the revocation of the patent upon any of the grounds specified in subsection (6) of the said section thirty-seven; and if upon such application the High Court is satisfied—

- (a) that any of the said grounds are established; and
- (b) that the purpose for which an order may be made in pursuance of an application under the said section thirty-seven could not be achieved by the making of any further order under that section;

it may order the patent to be revoked.

(3) Any such application shall state the grounds on which the applicant relies, and shall be accompanied by a statement setting out particulars of the facts alleged in support of the said grounds, and a copy of the application and of the statement shall be served by the applicant on the patentee and proof of such service shall be furnished to the Registrar.

(4) If the patentee wishes to contest the application made in terms of subsection (1) or subsection (2), he shall, within such time as may be prescribed or such further time as the High Court may allow, lodge at the Patent Office a counter-statement setting out particulars of the grounds upon which the application is contested and deliver to the applicant a copy of that statement.

(5) Except by leave of the High Court, no evidence shall be admitted in proof of any ground, particulars of which are not delivered as aforesaid.

(6) Particulars delivered may from time to time be amended by leave of the High Court.

(7) The High Court shall appoint a time for the hearing of any such application, and shall thereafter decide whether the patent shall be revoked or whether and, if so, subject to what amendments, if any, of the specification or claims thereof, the patent shall be upheld:

Provided that the High Court—

- (i) shall not allow any amendment of the specification or claims as aforesaid if it is established to its satisfaction that the original complete specification and claims were not framed in good faith and with reasonable skill and knowledge; and
- (ii) may, in the exercise of its discretion as to costs, take into consideration the conduct of the patentee in framing his original specification and claims and permitting them to remain as so framed.

(8) An order for the revocation of a patent under this section may be made so as to take effect either unconditionally or, in the event of failure to comply, within such reasonable period as may be specified in the order, with such conditions as may be imposed by the order with a view to achieving the purposes aforesaid, and the High Court may, on reasonable cause shown in any case, by subsequent order, extend any period so specified.

*(As amended by S.I. No. 175 of 1965
and Act No. 18 of 1980)*

Consequences of revocation on grounds of fraud

51. (1) Where a patent is revoked on the ground of fraud, or a patent fraudulently obtained has been surrendered and revoked, or the grant of a patent has been refused under the provisions of paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section twenty-two, the High Court may, on the application of the person entitled to the invention for Zambia or his legal representative, made in accordance with the provisions of this Act, direct the grant to him of a patent for the whole or any part of the invention, bearing the same date as the patent so revoked or as would have been borne by the patent which has been refused, if the grant thereof had not been refused.

(2) Where in proceedings before the High Court in connection with opposition to the grant of a patent, the High Court has found that an invention was in part obtained from the objector and has required that the specification be amended by the exclusion of that part of the invention, the High Court may direct that, on the application of the inventor or any person claiming through or under him made in accordance with the provisions of this Act within three months after the date of the direction or within such further period as the High Court may allow, a patent for that excluded part of the invention bearing the date of and having the same effective date as the opposed application be granted to the applicant concerned.

(3) No action shall be brought for any infringement of a patent committed—

- (a) in the case of a patent granted under subsection (1), before the date of sealing thereof; or
- (b) in the case of a patent granted under subsection (2), before the date of advertisement of acceptance of the complete specification lodged in pursuance of the application for such patent.

*(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964
and Act No. 18 of 1980)*

52. (1) A patentee may at any time by notice given to the Registrar offer to surrender his patent.

Surrender of
patents

(2) Where such an offer is made, the patentee shall advertise the offer in the prescribed manner, and within the prescribed period after such advertisement any person interested may give notice to the Registrar of opposition to the surrender.

(3) Where any such notice of opposition is duly given, the Registrar shall notify the patentee.

(4) If the Registrar is satisfied, after hearing the patentee and any opponent, if desirous of being heard, that the patent may properly be surrendered, he may accept the offer and by order revoke the patent.

(5) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

PART VII

INFRINGEMENTS

53. (1) An action for infringement of a patent may only be instituted by the patentee or the exclusive licensee. Such action shall be heard and determined by the Court and, subject to the provisions of any rules made under section eighty-one, the following provisions shall apply in connection therewith, namely:

Procedure and conditions in action for infringement

- (a) any ground upon which a patent may be revoked under this Act may be relied upon by way of defence;
- (b) the defendant may, by way of counter-claim in the action, apply for the revocation of the patent;
- (c) the plaintiff shall, with his statement of claim or declaration or on the order of the Court at any subsequent time, deliver full particulars of the infringement complained of;

- (d) the defendant shall, with his statement of defence or plea or on the order of the Court at any subsequent time, deliver particulars of any objections on which he relies in support thereof;
- (e) at the hearing no evidence shall, except by leave of the Court, be admitted of any infringement or on any objections of which particulars have not been so delivered;
- (f) the Court may allow the patentee to amend his specification, subject to such terms as to costs, advertisement or otherwise as it may impose and to the provisions of subsection (3) of section forty-three.

(2) In any action under this section where an exclusive licensee is the plaintiff, the patentee shall, unless he is joined as plaintiff in such action, be added as defendant:

Provided that a patentee so added as defendant shall not be liable for any costs unless he enters an appearance and takes part in the proceedings.

(3) If the patentee is the plaintiff in any such action, he shall give notice thereof to the exclusive licensee under the patent in question and any such licensee shall be entitled to intervene as a co-plaintiff and to recover any damages he may have suffered as a result of the infringement.

(4) No action under this section shall lie in respect of an infringement which took place before the publication referred to in subsection (2) of section twenty-one.

(5) In an action for infringement of a patent, the plaintiff shall be entitled to relief by way of injunction or interdict and damages and the Court may, on application, make such order for an injunction, interdict, damages, inspection or account and impose such terms and give such directions as it may deem fit.

(6) In an action for infringement of a patent in respect of an invention which relates to the protection of a new substance, any substance of the same chemical composition and constitution shall in the absence of proof to the contrary be deemed to have been produced by the patented process.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

Relief for infringement
of partially valid specifi-

54. Where, in any action for the infringement of a patent, the Court finds that any claim in the specification in respect of which the infringement is alleged is valid, but that any other claim thereunder is invalid, then, notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-three, the following provisions shall apply, namely:

- (a) unless the Court is satisfied that the invalid claim was not framed in good faith and with reasonable skill and knowledge, the Court shall, subject to its discretion as to costs and as to the date from which damages should be reckoned, and to such terms as to amendment of the specification as it may deem desirable, grant relief in respect of any valid claim which is or has been infringed, without regard to the invalidity of any other claim in the specification and, in exercising such discretion, the Court may take into consideration the conduct of the patentee in inserting the invalid claim in the specification or permitting that claim to remain there;
- (b) if the Court is so satisfied, it shall not grant any relief by way of damages or costs, but may grant such other relief in respect of any valid claim which is or has been infringed as to it seems just and may impose such terms as to amendment of the specification as a condition of granting any such relief as it may deem desirable;
- (c) if a counter-claim for revocation of the patent has been made in the action on the ground of invalidity of any claim in the specification, the Court may postpone the operation of any order made thereon for such time as may be requisite to enable the patentee to effect any amendment of the specification pursuant to terms imposed by the Court and may attach such other conditions to any order to be made on the counter-claim as the Court may deem desirable.

55. (1) In proceedings for the infringement of a patent, damages shall not be awarded against a defendant who proves that, at the date of the infringement, he was not aware, and had no reasonable grounds for supposing and had no reasonable means of making himself aware, that the patent existed, and the application to an article of the word "patent", "patented", or any word or words expressing or implying that a patent has been obtained for the article, shall not constitute such grounds or means unless the number and year of the patent accompanied the word or words in question.

Restrictions on recovery of damages for infringement

(2) If proceedings are taken in respect of infringement of a patent committed after the failure to pay any fee within the prescribed time and before any extension of time for such payment, the Court may, if it thinks fit, refuse to award any damages in respect of such infringement.

(3) Nothing in this section shall affect the power of the Court to grant an injunction or interdict in any proceedings for the infringement of a patent.

56. (1) Where any person (whether entitled to or interested in a patent or an application for a patent or not) by circulars, advertisements or otherwise threatens any other person with proceedings for infringement of a patent, any person aggrieved thereby may in the

Remedy for groundless threats of infringement
proceedings

prescribed manner bring an action against him in the Court for any such relief as is mentioned in subsection (2).

(2) Unless in any action brought by virtue of this section the defendant proves that the acts in respect of which proceedings were threatened constitute or, if done, would constitute, an infringement of a patent or of rights arising from the publication of a complete specification in respect of a claim of the specification not shown by the plaintiff to be invalid, the plaintiff shall be entitled to the following relief, that is to say:

- (a) a declaration to the effect that the threats are unjustifiable;
- (b) an injunction or interdict against the continuance of the threats; and
- (c) such damages, if any, as he has sustained thereby.

(3) For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby declared that a mere notification of the existence of a patent does not constitute a threat of proceedings within the meaning of this section.

(4) The defendant in any such action as aforesaid may apply, by way of counter-claim in the action, for any relief to which he would be entitled in a separate action in respect of any infringement by the plaintiff of the patent to which the threats relate.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

Power of Court to make declaration as to non-
infringement

57. (1) A declaration that the use by any person of any process, or the making or use or sale by any person of any article, does not or would not constitute an infringement of a claim of a patent may be made by the Court in proceedings between that person and the patentee or the holder of an exclusive licence under the patent, notwithstanding that no assertion to the contrary has been made by the patentee or licensee, if it is shown—

- (a) that the plaintiff has applied in writing to the patentee or licensee for a written acknowledgment to the effect of the declaration claimed, and has furnished him with full particulars in writing of the process or article in question; and
- (b) that the patentee or licensee has refused or neglected to give such an acknowledgment.

(2) The costs of all parties in proceedings for a declaration brought by virtue of this section shall be ordered as the Court may deem fit:

Provided that a patentee or holder of an exclusive licence under the patent shall not be liable for any costs unless he enters an appearance and takes part in the proceedings.

(3) The validity of a claim of the specification of a patent shall not be called in question in proceedings for a declaration brought by virtue of this section, and accordingly the making or refusal of such a declaration in the case of a patent shall not be deemed to imply that the patent is valid.

(4) Proceedings for a declaration may be brought by virtue of this section at any time after the date of the notice of the acceptance of the complete specification in pursuance of an application for a patent, and references in this section to the patentee shall be construed accordingly.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964)

57A. In this Part, unless the context otherwise requires, Court means the High Court.

PART VIII

ASSIGNMENTS AND CORRECTIONS

58. (1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (7) of section thirty-one, the rights granted to a patentee by a patent shall be capable of assignment and of devolution by operation of law and of being mortgaged and pledged.

Provisions as to assignments

(2) Where any person becomes entitled by assignment, transmission or operation of law to a patent or to a share in a patent, or becomes entitled as mortgagee, licensee or otherwise to any other interest in a patent, he may apply to the Registrar in the prescribed manner for the registration of his title as proprietor or co-proprietor, or, as the case may be, of notice of his interest, in the register, and the Registrar shall, upon proof of such entitlement to his satisfaction, register such title or notice against the patent accordingly.

(3) Except for the purposes of an application to rectify the register under the provisions of this Act, a document in respect of which no entry has been made in the register under subsection (2) shall not be admitted in any proceedings as evidence of the title of any person to a patent, or a share of or interest in a patent, unless the High Court or Supreme Court otherwise directs.

*(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964
and Act No. 18 of 1980)*

59. (1) The Registrar may authorise—

- (a) the correction of any clerical error or omission, or error in translation in any patent, application for a patent or document lodged in pursuance of such an application, or in the register;
- (b) the amendment otherwise of any documents for the amending of which no express provision is made in this Act;

Power of Registrar to authorise corrections

- (c) the condonation or correction of any irregularity in procedure in any proceedings before him, if such condonation or correction is not detrimental to the interests of any person.
- (2) A correction may be made in pursuance of this section, either upon a request in writing accompanied by the prescribed fee or without such a request.
- (3) Where it is proposed to make a correction otherwise than upon such a request, the Registrar shall give notice of the proposal to the patentee or the applicant for the patent, as the case may be, and to any other person who appears to him to be concerned, and shall give any such person an opportunity of being heard before the correction is made.
- (4) Where a request is made for the correction of any such clerical error or omission and it appears to the Registrar that the correction would materially alter the scope of the document to which the request relates, the Registrar may require notice of the request to be advertised in the prescribed manner and to be served upon such persons as he considers necessary.
- (5) Any opposition to the request for such correction may be lodged and shall be dealt with by the Registrar in the manner prescribed.
- (6) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar under this section.

Rectification
of register

60. (1) The High Court may, on the application of any person aggrieved, order the register to be rectified by the making of any entry therein or the variation or deletion of any entry therein.

(2) The High Court may determine any question which it may be necessary or expedient to decide in connection with the rectification of the register.

(3) Notice of any application to the High Court under this section shall be given in the prescribed manner to the Registrar and all interested parties, and the Registrar and all such parties shall be entitled to appear and be heard on the application.

(4) Any order made by the High Court under this section shall be served on the Registrar in the prescribed manner, and the Registrar shall, on the receipt of the notice, rectify the register accordingly.

PART IX

61. (1) A certificate purporting to be signed by the Registrar and certifying that any entry which he is authorised by or under this Act to make has or has not been made, or that any other thing which he is so authorised to do has or has not been done, shall be prima facie evidence of the matters so certified.

64. (1) Without prejudice to any provisions of this Act requiring the Registrar to hear any party to proceedings thereunder, or to give to any such party an opportunity to be heard, the Registrar shall give to any applicant for a patent, or for amendment of a specification, an opportunity to be heard before exercising adversely to the applicant any discretion vested in the Registrar by or under this Act.

(2) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of section eighty, where by this Act any time is specified within which any act or thing is to be done, the Registrar may, save where it is expressly otherwise provided, extend the time, either before or after its expiration, if he is satisfied that the failure to comply with the provisions relating to such time has not been or will not be due to any neglect or default on the part of the person concerned.

65. (1) Evidence in any proceedings before the Registrar under this Act shall be given by affidavit, so, however, that the Registrar may, if he thinks fit in any particular case, take oral evidence on oath in lieu of or in addition to such evidence as aforesaid, and may allow any witness to be cross-examined on his affidavit or oral evidence.

(2) A patent agent shall not be guilty of an offence under the provisions of any written law in force in Zambia prohibiting the preparation for reward of certain documents by persons not legally qualified, by reason only of the preparation by him of any document relating to patents for use in the Patent Office or required in any proceedings under this Act before the Registrar or the High Court.

(As amended by G.N. No. 185 of 1964
and Act No. 18 of 1980)

(2) Any person ordinarily resident in Zambia who—

Provided that a public officer who has been employed in the Patent Office shall not be registered as a patent agent or be permitted to practise as such until at least twelve months have expired since he ceased to be so employed.

(3) An appeal shall lie from any decision of the Registrar made under the provisions of subsection (2).

(2) Subject to the provisions of this section and such procedure as may be prescribed, the High Court may order the Registrar to remove the name of any patent agent from the register of patent agents or may suspend any patent agent from practising as such for such time as it thinks fit if it is satisfied, after due inquiry, that such person has been guilty of conduct discreditable to a patent agent or has been guilty of a breach of any regulations prescribed for the conduct of patent agents.

(3) Repealed by Act No. 18 of 1980.

(4) Any institute or other organisation recognised by the Minister as being representative of the patent agents in Zambia shall be entitled to be represented, to adduce evidence and to be heard by the High Court before it makes any order in terms of subsection (2).
